

APPENDIX 8: IMPORTANT VIEWS

1. From the track bounding inventory sites 134 to 136 leading west from Gaddesby, north and west to the parish boundary.

View northwest

View north

View west along track

2. From the Leicestershire Round to the east and west across 'parkland' (old pasture with trees) to and from St Luke's Church and new community woodland in the foreground and to the south more distantly across Gaddesby Brook valley to the high ground.

View east

South along Leicestershire Round
long-distance footpath

West to St Luke's church

3. From the water meadows beside Gaddesby Brook (fields 243-245, including the avenue of oak trees), north to The Cheney, Lawn Wall Field, the Hall and St Luke's church. This is the defining view of the historic settlement core and landscape character area (Policy ENV x) of Gaddesby.

View north to the village

South along the avenue

4. View from and of Lawn Wall in the heart of Gaddesby Conservation Area; the field is bounded by a herringbone wall and ha-ha, and although not itself publicly accessible it provides a 'village green' component for the village-landscape and street scene of Gaddesby.

Lawn wall field, the Hall and church

Lawn wall field and ha-ha

Herringbone walls, Chapel Lane

5. From public footpath from Barsby to Gaddesby where it crosses fields 302 and 326 over the dewpond (a distinctive feature of the Plan Area's historic landscape), northwest from high ground into the valley of Gaddesby Brook to Gaddesby village.

View northwest from the Barsby-Gaddesby footpath

6. From Carington field, a traditional village cricket field, especially east and north into the well-preserved 18th-century village-scape of Ashby Folville, with mature trees, the Manor House grounds, and church.

Carington cricket field into Ashby Folville village

7. From footpath near field 365 northeast down the hillside into the Gaddesby Brook valley, over the village of Ashby Folville and toward the woodlands of Ashby Pastures on the northern horizon.

8. From fields 366 and 369 at the western edge of Barsby, south toward the South Croxton boundary and west into the far distance of the Wreake Valley.

View south

View west

9. From the hillcrest on Ashby Folville Road 100m north of Headlands Farm, south over the whole Gaddesby Brook valley including the rooftops and church in Ashby Folville village.

View south

Ashby Folville from the north